Living in Torino

Finding accommodation in Turin may be less simple than in other countries. You have to begin an active search before coming and not to wait until the last minute. Remember that our exchange program is not a full-service package: we will support you, but at the end the responsibility of finding satisfactory accommodation is up to you.

Our school does not have an Accommodation Office, nor do we have our own residence halls. Nevertheless, we can assist you in two different ways. We can find you an apartment, rented from private landlords that you can share with other exchange students, by using the contacts that are available at the moment. Or a private room in the Einaudi Collegio (a residence).

Finding a Room with SAA

Each semester we are in touch with private landlords who rent rooms in apartments (mostly in the area around SAA) to share with other students.

The prices can range from a minimum of €300 (plus expenses) to a maximum of €500 per month per person. If you are interested in this, we can put you in contact with the landlord and we will also try to match you with one or more other exchange students whom we think could suit you (age, language etc.).

This is probably the easiest solution.

Please take note that we just put landlords and guests in touch with each other, but flats are not regularly visited or inspected by us and that we recommend flats on the basis of the advice and positive experience of previous exchange students, but without any responsibility on our part. Take also note that we cannot enter into any form of tenancy agreement with private landlords on a students behalf. We are only an intermediary for students and landlords but in no circumstances can SAA be considered accountable for any possible problems between these two parties.

How does accommodation service work?

In order to have an efficient accommodation service you should tell us as soon as you can if you need our assistance.

The options are not many, so it is better to make a choice carefully but also quickly.

If you are interested in any of these options, you need to contact the International Office: exchange.saa@unito.it. You will receive the contact of the landlords, the addresses, and further photos of the apartments or the structures. You can ask to receive information for up to three options.

The private landlords and the Residences will provide a legal contract, which is essential in order to have an accommodation that guarantees safety for you and for people hosting you. If you take an apartment by yourself please ask the landlord if he/she registers the contracts in the Agenzia delle Entrate.

Be careful when you look for apartments on internet, and if you do not understand something please contact the Interuniversity Relations Office (exchange.saa@unito.it)
